A MESSAGE FROM PREMIER DOUG FORD

I'd like to wish the Toronto Regional Real Estate Board (TRREB) a happy 100 year anniversary.

Over the past century, this organization has worked hard to change the landscape of real estate in the Greater Toronto Area. The people working at the board today are just some of the many hands that have helped achieve this milestone. Today we celebrate all the real estate professionals who helped build TRREB. Their knowledge, expertise and exceptional service have help connect people, property and communities over the years.

As we move to safely re-open our economy and protect public health, the real estate industry will play a vital role in our economic recovery. I am very pleased to see that GTA's real estate market is showing signs of strength. I know we will come back, better and stronger than ever.

Please enjoy your celebration. Thank you and God bless!
